Death of Mrs. Jackman.

It is with regret that we record the death of Mrs. Col. Jackman. She died at the family residence on the Blanco, on Friday night last, of pneumonia. Mrs. Jackman was a sister of the late Mrs. Ed. Burleson, and like her was an excellent lady. We sympathize with her husband and other members of the family in their great loss.

Nervous Sufferers.

Nervousness is often attended by many annoying symptoms, such as black spots flitting before the eyes, ringing or buzzing in the ears, flashes of visionary light in darkness, inability to look up or about suddenly without growing faint or dizzy, wakefulness, vivid dreaming, etc., all of which is permanently cured by using Brown's Iron Bitters.

We are indebted to Rev. H. A. Graves for a copy of his pamphlet just from the press, entitled "Imperialism in the State and Prelacy in the Church." The title indicates the drift of the work. The writer through a Methodist preacher, vigorously assails the episcopal feature of its government, and argues that "Democracy built on virtuous intelligence," should prevail in the church as well as the State. From a cursory examination we judge the work is well worth reading.

Mr. Graves has sent us several copies on sale, price 50cts. Or it can be had at the same price from Nic Teng, book-seller, San Antonio.

Mr. Graves is the author of the life of Andrew Jackson Potter, of which our readers may have heard.

We scarcely remember having been so skillfully manipulated by any barber since we came to Texas as we were the other day by Mr. Alley, the new tonsorial artist, who holds forth next to Malone's. Try him.

The Latest News.

We have a large stock of Dry Goods and are now receiving our spring stock which will be complete in 30 days. Our Boot and Shoe stock cannot be beat in the United States for quality. We have a few sacks of fine coffee left. Will do you good to drink a cup. We are still of the opinion that money will suit us better than the goods, hence we offer them so low for cash.

P. R. TURNER & Co.

Messrs Nanz & Nuener, Louisville, Ky. have just issued their illustrated catalogue of seeds, plants and bulbs for the year of 1882. The publication is one of the largest and handsomest in the country and has attracted our attention by reason of the infinite variety of flowers, seeds, etc., it offers to the public. Heretofore this branch of enterprise seems to have been confined almost entirely to the north, and it is gratifying to see southern greenhouses entering the field of competition. Any person can get a copy of the beautiful book by simply sending a three cent postage stamp to the publishers, Nanz & Nuener, Louisville, Kentucky.

"WINE OF CARDUI" four times a day makes a happy household. For sale by all druggists.

COL. SLEDGE has handed us a Cresco (not Cisco as we had it last week) Iowa paper containing a letter from the Mr. Daniels referred to in our last week's personals from which we make the following extract. Referring to the country about Austin, he says:

Here the country is partly timber and largely live Oak, and other evergreen varieties which gives it quite a summer appearance and it is a charming region to travel through until we reach this town, San Marcos, here the scenery and surroundings approach the grand and are altogether charming, with a beautiful stream of water, green trees and growing vegetation (of some kinds) apparently a good social element, with quite a sprinkling of Northern invalids, two or three in my boarding house. I have been all the way from St Louis looking for the pallid, hollow, sickly looking people I expected to find according to tradition, and have failed to find them any where, in fact the men here look as hale and hearty and women as fresh and fair as in Iowa or Minn., the only sickly people I have seen are those from the North coming here in search of health.

Carter's Little Liver Pills will positively cure sick headache and prevent its return. This is no talk but truth. One pill a dose. To be had of all druggists. See advertisement.

"WINE OF CARDUI" makes rosy cheeks and clear complexions. For sale by all druggists.

Harwood Dots.

EDITOR FREE PRESS: We are blessed with sunshine again. High winds plenty, and mud drying up. Gardening is progressing finely. Farmers are at last able to begin work and are now busy preparing for crops. Those who have planted small grain are much encouraged by the present condition of their crops. Mr. P. W. Galager, one of Harwood's most successful merchants, has been buying town lots and improving them with neat dwelling houses.

Educational interests are progressing well. The Sunday-school struggles on and still "holds the fort."

The meeting of the prohibition alliance Tuesday night showed a growing interest. The ladies favored us with excellent vocal music and new names were added to the list, which is already large. One of the R. R. hands on the tap road was found dead in camp a few mornings since. We failed to learn any of the particulars.

We hear whispering of coming candidates but nothing definite at yet. Of one thing they may rest assured when coming to Harwood, if they are asking to represent the people in the next Legislature, they will be called out on the question of Prohibition, and if opposed to it they will find a good majority here supporting them to stay at home.

Since my last, Canal creek, Smiths creek and Hall's neighborhood have gone to work in Sunday school interests.

Yours for Prohibition

Personals.

Rev. Mr. Thrall paid our place a visit last week. A. Vom. Stein is teaching a class in Spanish. G. W. Kyser, formerly of this vicinity, was married last week to Miss Emma Kirtley, of Plinstonia.

Mr. Burton of Houston, last week repaired Hinzle's safe hinges which the burglars broke.

What has become of our Oyster Creek correspondent? He made a fair start, but appears to have relapsed into silence.

Mr. Pegues in pushing forward his hotel enterprise. It will be ready in time for our summer sojourners.

Mr. Gus. Brackney and Miss Sallie Polk were married last week. We regard Gus as a lucky man to capture so winsome a lady. They will reside at Luling.

Judge Gus. Cook is president of the re-organized Houston Jockey Club. The races commence on March 21 and last five days.

Turner & Co., have a new clerk in the person of Tom Gathright, a son of the former president of the A. & M. College, near Bryan.

Townsend & Baldrige have put up a new and conspicuous sign. The New Drugstore also has one that is hard to beat, Arthur Northcraft, painter.

R. F. Holloman writes us from Tazoo City Miss., that he will visit Texas, including our county. He thinks of settling in this state, and says: "I'll locate in Texas and take say two or two hundred and fifty inhabitants with me."

Drs. D. and Leroy Beach, late of Gonzales, who were here last season prospecting for a location, have settled at Columbus in the practice of their profession. They are publishing a paper entitled "Our Medical Friend," and have sent us some copies for free distribution.

We read in English history of the house of Lancaster, aspirants to throne of that Kingdom. Happening at Mr. Breeding's the other day, we were presented to a representative of the American branch of said house, a promising, but very young lady—in fact only a few weeks old. In this favored land where every individual is a born sovereign, there can be no contest over her queenship as there was with respect to some of the English Lancasters.
